THE PRIZE—WINNING ENTRY
FROM ANIRUDDHA JOSHI:

The tiger whose tail had been cut off was worried that the long-legged one would recognize him since he was the only one without a tail and that he would catch him again. So he decided to cut off the tail of another tiger. Thus one night he went and cut off the tail of the leader while he was sleeping. The leader screamed and got up, but it was too late. His tail was already lost. Now the leader was worried that the long-legged one would mistake him for the first tiger because he was also now without a tail.

So both these tigers decided to cut off the tails of two more tigers while they were asleep. These two then joined hands with the previous two, and thus the four tigers cut off the tails of four more; then eight more and so on.

And after a few days there was not a single tiger left in the jungle with a tail.

And none of these tail-less tigers dared to go and snatch a cow from the old lady's cowshed.

MEET THE Jacana

Script : Ashvin

Illustrations :

LOOK! A JACANA!
(PRONOUNCED YA-SA-NA.)
IT'S A SPANISH WORD BUT
THE BIRD IS VERY MUCH
A PART OF THE INDIAN SCENE.

THE JACANA IS VERY SHY
AND, IF FRIGHTENED...

...IT RUNS AWAY. THIS BIRD IS RUNNING
TOWARDS A LAKE.

IS IT A MIRACLE? IS IT
WALKING ON WATER?

NO. LOOK CAREFULLY AND YOU'LL SEE THAT IT IS WALKING ON LOTUS LEAVES.

IT HAS VERY LONG
TOES AND NAILS SO THAT ITS WEIGHT IS DISTRIBUTED
EVENLY OVER THE LEAVES.
BECAUSE OF THEIR HABIT OF WALKING ON LOTUS
LEAVES, JACANAS
ARE SOMETIMES KNOWN AS
"LILY-TROTTERS".
THEY CAN SWIM,
BUT RARELY DO SO.

ON THE BANK OF THE LAKE, A FLOCK OF JACANAS IS FEEDING ON SEEDS AND LEAVES. THEY EAT
WATER-PLANTS, INSECTS,
SNAILS AND OTHER SMALL CREATURES, TOO.

IF THEY SENSE ANY DANGER, SAY
FROM A WILD CAT, THEY FLY AWAY.

THE TIMID, SILENT, DULL-COLOURED
JACANA...

... LOOKS VERY DIFFERENT IN THE MONSOON,
THE BREEDING SEASON.

THEN, BOTH MALES AND FEMALES BECOME BRIGHTER IN COLOUR AND GROW LONG TAIL-
FEATHERS. THEY START
CALLING OUT TO EACH OTHER:
"TEWN, TEWN! TEWN!"

THESE FEMALES ARE FIGHTING OVER A HANDSOME MALE.

HE IS SMALLER THAN EITHER OF THEM. MALE
JACANAS ARE ALWAYS SMALLER THAN THE FEMALES!

LOOK AT THE SPIKES ON THEIR WINGS.
BOTH MALES AND FEMALES HAVE
SPIKES AND THEY MAY USE THEM
WHEN FIGHTING.

THE FEMALE WHO WINS GOES
AWAY WITH THE MALE AND THEY MATE.

THEN THE PAIR BUILD A NEST.
IT'S JUST A PILE OF WEEDS OR STEMS ON A LOTUS LEAF.

THE FEMALE LAYS FOUR EGGS ON THE FLOATING NEST. THE EGGS ARE GLOSSY AND LOOK AS IF THEY ARE VARNISHED. BECAUSE OF THIS GLOSS THE EGGS CANNOT GET WET.

THE MALE SITS ON THE EGGS TO INCUBATE THEM...

... WHILE THE FEMALE GOES IN SEARCH OF ANOTHER MALE.

AFTER MATING WITH ANOTHER, SHE LAYS FOUR EGGS FOR HIM TOO.

THE FEMALE STANDS GUARD ONLY WHEN HER MATES GO OUT TO FEED. SHE NEVER WARMS THE EGGS HERSELF. THE MALES HAVE TO DO THAT JOB THEMSELVES.

THE CHICKS HATCH AFTER TWO WEEKS. THEY ARE SO WELL-DEVELOPED THAT THEY CAN RUN IMMEDIATELY.

THE YOUNG ONES FIND THEIR FOOD THEMSELVES UNDER THE WATCHFUL EYE OF THE ADULTS... AND THEY GROW RAPIDLY. MEANWHILE, THE ADULT BIRDS LOSE THEIR TAIL-FEATHERS AND THE BRIGHT COLOURS FADE AWAY.

THE JACANA YOU'VE JUST READ ABOUT IS CALLED THE PHEASANT-TAILED JACANA.

THE BRONZE-WINGED JACANA:

THIS IS ANOTHER SPECIES OF JACANA FOUND IN INDIA. THEIR HABITS ARE THE SAME AS THOSE OF THE PHEASANT-TAILED JACANA, BUT THEIR COLOURS DON'T CHANGE DURING THE BREEDING SEASON.

THERE ARE OTHER SPECIES OF JACANA IN OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD. BUT THEY ARE NOT AS COLOURFUL AS THE INDIAN ONES.

EDITOR'S CHOICE

My young friends,

The king of Devpur sought his guru's advice on every important matter.

Once it so happened that there were two candidates for the same job in the palace. The king sent both the men to his guru. The guru talked to them for a while. Then he gave one of them a sieve and the other a winnowing scoop and sent them back to the king.

"What could the guru have meant by this?" the king asked his minister. "I'll have to give it some thought, Maharaj. I'll need some time," replied the minister.

When the minister returned home, he saw his wife winnowing husks away from the grain in a winnowing scoop. Later he saw her sifting flour in a sieve. In a flash, he understood.

He went back to the king. "My lord, the man who brought the winnowing scoop will retain the useful things and reject the useless. The one who brought the sieve will retain the useless things and reject the useful."

The king employed the candidate who came with the winnowing scoop.

Affectionately yours,

Anant Bai

You will need : A table-lamp; a bare wall for a screen and your hands, of course !

You can have a poultry show in your house!
Stand a few feet away from a wall and arrange your hands and fingers in front of a lamp as shown to make the shadow of a hen.

A rooster needs a comb. You'll have to cut it out from a piece of stiff paper and hold it up as shown.

You need a cut-out for the chicken too. Make sure you cut out a hole where its eye should be.

Sunrise, Sunset

The sun rises in the east
And sets in the west.
When the sun rises or sets
The colours of the sky
Are at their best.

There's red, there's orange,
There's also pink,
Spread around the sun
Like a ruby ring.

When the sun rises
I'm on my way to school,
I watch the sun
Throwing gold into the pool.

When the sun sets
I watch it go,
Till there are no traces left
Outside my window.

The sun has drowned,
But only for now—
Tomorrow I will watch it rise
With such colours — WOW!

There was an all High School Quiz held in Madras recently. In the last round our opponents were leading. They were asked to draw a comic picture; I drew one of Mooshik. They all began to laugh and our team got the prize!

Once we children of Class II went on a picnic. I took 5 copies of TINKLE along to read. I sat with my teacher reading them under a tree. My teacher asked for one copy. I gave it to her and she liked it. She borrowed two and gave them back to me the next day. She really enjoyed TINKLE! I didn't know that even teachers like reading comics!

Once we had gone to Tungeshwar which is near Bombay. It has a dense forest with a river flowing between the mountains. There is a small temple of Shiva. We were sitting in front of the temple. Cows were also sitting quietly. Suddenly the cows started running and they were very scared. Two bright eyes were coming towards us. We were stunned to see a leopard. We ran into the temple immediately and shut the doors.

THE MOON —Our Strange Neighbour—1

Script : J.D. Isloor

• Illustrations : Anand Mande

WHEN GALILEO TURNED HIS TELESCOPE ON THE MOON FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 1609...

... HE WAS AMAZED TO SEE MOUNTAINS AND CRATERS AND PLAINS ON IT.

SOME OF THE MOUNTAIN PEAKS ARE OF GREAT HEIGHT. THE LUNAR MOUNTAIN, LEIBNITZ IS HIGHER THAN MT. EVEREST. THE CRATERS ARE OF VARIOUS SIZES—SOME AS SMALL AS PEANUTS, OTHERS SEVERAL KILOMETRES IN DIAMETER. THERE IS ONE FACTOR COMMON TO ALL THESE CRATERS: THEY ARE ALL CIRCULAR.

THE MOON IS OUR NEAREST NEIGHBOUR AND THE ONLY ONE EVER TO HAVE BEEN VISITED BY MAN.

IT IS ONLY ABOUT 3,84,360 KM. AWAY FROM US. IF IT WERE POSSIBLE TO LAY TRACKS BETWEEN THE EARTH AND THE MOON, IT WOULD TAKE A TRAIN, TRAVELLING AT AN AVERAGE SPEED OF 120 K M. PER HOUR, 130 DAYS TO REACH THE MOON.

YOU MAY CONSIDER THIS A VERY LONG DISTANCE, BUT COMPARED TO THE DISTANCES OF OTHER HEAVENLY BODIES THIS DISTANCE IS NOT MUCH.

THE MOON IS ROUGHLY A QUARTER OF THE SIZE OF THE EARTH. BUT AS FAR AS ITS WEIGHT IS CONCERNED, IT WOULD TAKE 81 MOONS TO EQUAL THE WEIGHT OF THE EARTH.

ALL OBJECTS THAT ARE DROPPED FROM A HIGH POINT OR THROWN UP WILL COME BACK TO EARTH ULTIMATELY. THE EARTH 'PULLS' THEM ALL. THIS PULL OF THE EARTH IS CALLED GRAVITY.

THE WEIGHT OF EVERYTHING DEPENDS ON GRAVITY. THIS MAN CANNOT LIFT THIS BAR-BELL WEIGHING 180 KGS.

BUT HE WOULD BE ABLE TO LIFT IT EASILY ON THE MOON BECAUSE THERE IT WOULD WEIGH ONLY 30 KGS. THE MOON'S GRAVITY OR PULLING POWER IS ONLY $\frac{1}{6}$ TH THAT OF THE EARTH.

YOU CAN'T JUMP TOO HIGH ON THE EARTH, BECAUSE THE EARTH PULLS YOU DOWN VERY STRONGLY. IF YOU CAN JUMP 4 FEET HIGH HERE...

... ON THE MOON, YOU WOULD BE ABLE TO JUMP 24 FEET (6X4) BECAUSE EVEN THOUGH YOU WOULD BE SIX TIMES LIGHTER THERE, YOUR ENERGY WOULD REMAIN THE SAME.

IT IS DIFFICULT TO FALL ON THE MOON. THE ASTRONAUTS FOUND THAT IF THEY LOST THEIR BALANCE THEY BEGAN TO FALL IN SLOW MOTION, GIVING THEM PLENTY OF TIME TO REGAIN THEIR BALANCE.
